

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A radiation imaging system comprises a radiation image detection panel having means for converting radiations into electric signals, and an outer enclosure which holds therein the radiation image detection panel, and further comprises an elastic support means. The radiation image detection panel is elastically supported by the elastic support means toward the outer enclosure.

10